WAR WITH HUERTA SEEKS CERTAIN

President Wilson Calls His Defi--Congress Will Back Him

PRESIDENT PERSONALLY APPEALED TO CONGRESS

Resolution Authorizing Use of Force Passed by Committee--Feeling For War Is Strong

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Wilson went before Congress today and asked authority to "use the armed forces of the United States to obtain from General Victoriano Huerta recognition of the rights and dignity of the United States." He reviewed the affronts offered by Huerta. He expressed the warmest friendship for the Mexican people, and declared his confidence that America can not be drawn into conflict with them. He disavowed the thought of self-aggrandizement. Both houses of Congress took immediate steps to comply with the president's wishes.

A joint resolution justifying the employment of the army and navy against General Huerta was drafted by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. It justified the president's course in addition to sanctioning his plans. The program called for rushing the resolution through both houses at top speed.

The president's address was given in a thousand words. His face was set in grim lines and he was very pale. His voice was clear and his enunciation perfect. His tone was incisive and stern, but not aggressive.

Throughout the speech the president emphasized that he referred to Huerta, not to the people of Mexico, and declared that his one object was to restore Mexico to her own people. The legislators listened in a silence so intense that the ticking of the clock on the wall of the room was audible.

SOCIALISTS ENTER PROTEST AGAINST WAR WITH MEXICO

The executive committee of the Socialist party of Orange county has passed the following resolution in protest against the war with Mexico:

"Whereas, it appears that the cause of this proximity to a state of war with that nation is due to what the newspapers term an insult to our national honor, brought about by the arrest of American marines at Tampico, and

"Whereas, it is proposed that Mexico remove the sting of this so-called insult by the firing of a salute to the American flag, a proceeding savoring of baronial days and entirely out of harmony with the supposed lofty intelligence and high-minded humanity of the present day, be it, therefore,

"Resolved, By the executive board of the Orange County Socialist Party of California and of America, in session assembled, that any declaration of war upon Mexico for the causes now agitating the diplomats at Washington be strenuously opposed by this body, and that we urge with all emphasis the continuation of peace between the two nations, knowing as we do the conditions that obtain in our sister republic, and the terrible causes that have brought these conditions about; and that we further condemn war in any event and in any case, because of its barbarities and because of the well-known fact that those who bring war upon us are never those who fight the wars. Be it further

"Resolved, That we will oppose the government in its proposed war with Mexico to the last, refusing to fight or aid in any way against the Mexicans, who are in the midst of a social revolution fighting for freedom against foreign capital which has robbed them of their lands and other natural resources and which now urges us to go to war to protect its interests."

The resolution is signed by Vier Robinson, county chairman, A. G. Linn, county secretary; Minnie M. Wilson, E. E. Duncanson, J. H. Winters, M. A. Bruce and H. M. Day.

ONE MACHINE CAME TO STOP ON EDGE

Seven Occupants Were Throw Out and Two of Them Were Injured

Mrs. T. H. Shields and Mrs. S. G. Unland, of seven persons thrown from an automobile Saturday night, were badly bruised. Mrs. Shields' condition was discouraging up to today. It is now thought that she will recover. The accident occurred on North Main street near Chapman, in front of T. F. Tedford's ranch.

"It is resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled that President Wilson is justified in the employment of the armed forces of America to enforce the demands made upon Victoriano Huerta, for unequivocal amends to the government of the United States for affronts and indignities, committed against this government by General Huerta and his representatives."

$50,000 FOR USE IN NATION'S DEFENSE ASKED

A bill appropriating $50,000,000 for President Wilson to use "at his discretion for national defense," was introduced in the Senate by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. Both houses passed a resolution to meet in joint session to hear the president's speech on the Mexican situation. Guards were early posted to check the crowds.

Following the cabinet meeting Secretary Bryan admitted that instructions had been issued to consuls in Mexico to have all Americans leave Mexico. He denied that General Huerta had tried to reopen negotiations with the United States.

A motorcyclist whose name has not been learned had left his motorcycle standing on the paved road, two or three feet from the east edge. Had the man left the machine standing off the road, no accident would have occurred.

Dick Cribaro, an employee of the Orange County Garage of Santa Ana, was driving a small Buick south on Main street, and was hugging the west edge of the paved strip. Cribaro was returning from the Bruns home at East Anaheim with clothing for Plummer Bruns and Miss Bruns, who were injured in the overturning of an automobile on Delhi road Friday.

S. G. Unland, a rancher living two miles northwest of Orange, was driving north in his Ford. In the machine with him were his wife and three children, aged 10, 8 and 6, and two neighbors, Mrs. B. R. Douglass and her mother, Mrs. T. H. Shields. Mrs. Shields sat on the front seat with the driver.

The motorcycle was headed north, and Unland did not see that it was standing until he was close to it. He saw the machine approaching from the north, but thought that it would give a little by going off the paved strip. So Unland turned to the center of the street to avoid running over the motorcycle.

The left front wheels of the two machines locked and jerked apart. The Buick was thrown to the east side of the street but did not upset. The Ford whirled part way around and went over on its side. Had it turned turtle the injuries might have been far more serious.

All of those in the car were thrown clear except Mrs. Unland. The top of the machine was down, and when the machine came to a stop Mrs. Unland was held down on the ground with the edge of the top across her chest and shoulder. The machine was quickly pulled off of her.

It was found that Mrs. Shields, who is 64 years old, had also been hurt. It is thought that she was thrown against the door. The others escaped with a few slight bruises. The two injured women were helped into the Tedford house, where they were cared for by a physician. The accident occurred about 10 o'clock, and it was 1:30 before the injured women could be taken home. Both suffered severely from shock. Mrs. Unland had no bones broken. Mrs. Shields was hurt internally. One rib is bent, and she suffered injuries to her back and hips.

Unland states that he was so busy looking after the injured women that he did not notice when the motorcyclist came and got his machine. At the time of the accident the motorcyclist was not there.

ACTING IN INTERESTS OF PEACE, NOT WAR

President Wilson made a remarkable statement to correspondents, saying that the present war preparations were being made to enforce peace, not to make war. He declares the situation if handled firmly and promptly need not result in war.

The president said that what he wants from Huerta is a full recognition of American honor and dignity and an adequate guarantee of his future respect. He remarked that Mexico City dispatches said foreign diplomats were urging Huerta to yield. He urged correspondents to remember that the administration has not lost patience; that to lose patience is weakness; but that as he sees the situation, if incidents like the Tampico incident should be disregarded, matters must go from bad to worse until an armed conflict would finally result. Because of this and in the interests of peace, not war, he had determined to call a halt at all hazards. This, he concluded, is the spirit in which the administration is acting.

HOPES TO GIVE THEIR COUNTRY BACK TO THEM

But Declares Huerta's Affronts Must Be Stopped by War Demonstration

WASHINGTON, April 20.—President Wilson arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning from White Sulphur Springs. He at once summoned Stenographer Swem, and completed his address to Congress. Secretary of State Bryan called at 9 o'clock. Congress was called in special joint session at 3 o'clock to hear Wilson's message dealing with Huerta's refusal to salute the American flag except on his own conditions, which have been denied by President Wilson. The President protested against the belief that actual warfare will be the result of the existing situation, believing war may yet be averted.

Secretary of War Garrison has ordered General Bliss at El Paso to concentrate two companies of artillery on the border ready for action. He announced that Major General Leonard Wood would command the United States army in the event of invasion of Mexico.

President Wilson told the correspondents today that he believes the majority of Mexicans will not back Huerta in his refusal to salute the flag only on his own conditions. He said the issue is between America and Huerta solely, and that the events of any hour might change the situation completely.

The motorcycle was headed north, and Unland did not see that it was standing until he was close to it. He saw the machine approaching from the north, but thought that it would give a little by going off the paved strip. So Unland turned to the center of the street to avoid running over the motorcycle.

LABOR CONTEMPT CASES AGAIN STAGED

Gompers et al Matter Once
More in the Limelight—Long-
Drawn-Out Case on Retrial

WASHINGTON, April 20.—For the third time, the fight of President Samuel Gompers, former Vice-President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, to escape stigma and punishment for alleged contempt of court, was staged today in the Supreme Court.

Re-argument of the labor leaders' appeal was specially ordered today by the high court before the "full bench." Absence of Justice Lurton, who was ill, when the case was presented January 8, caused the re-opening of the litigation today. It was reported that the eight other justices stood four to four and that Justice Lurton held the deciding vote, necessitating the retrial today. When the order for today's proceedings was made April 6, it was stated that the court was in such grave doubt regarding the issues, the prominence of the defendants, and the important questions of the right of "free speech" and "freedom of the press" involved, that re-hearing with every justice present was deemed imperative.

Prominent labor officials occupied spectators' seats today when counsel for the Federation officials and the special "prosecuting committee" of the bar clashed behind high battlements of law books. That a final decision would not be handed down by the court before June, or possibly not until next fall, was predicted to-day because of the re-argument.

Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, once Democratic candidate for president, and Jackson H. Ralston of the local bar, appeared today for the labor leaders. The "prosecuting committee" was J. J. Darlington, Daniel Davenport and James M. Beck, who represented the Buck Stove & Range Company of St. Louis in the original contempt proceedings.

That the arguments would consume most of today and part of tomorrow was believed when the contempt cases were called by Chief Justice White. Judge Parker opened for the labor officials and Attorney Ralston will close the case, with the prosecuting attorneys "sandwiched" between.

The appeals today were from sentence to thirty days in jail, imposed upon President Gompers and fines of $500 each upon Mitchell and Morrison, under a decree of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals, a federal court. The trial court, the District Supreme Court had sentenced Gompers to one year, Mitchell to nine months and Morrison to six months in jail, those sentences being mitigated by the appellate court.

The offenses charged against the three defendants were violation of an injunction of Justice Gould of the District Supreme court against boycotting the Buck Stove & Range Company in 1907. "Blacklisting" of the stove concern, despite the court's injunction by placing it upon the unfair, "We Don't Patronize" list of the "Federationist," was complained of. Speeches criticizing the court and particularly Justice Daniel Thew Wright, who imposed the original sentences, were cited as contemptuous. Impeachment proceedings were recently filed in the United States House of Representatives against Wright by Representative Park of Georgia. The arguments in behalf of the labor leaders today were that they had not intended to act in contempt of court, had purged themselves of any contempt by disavowing it, and also that the statute of limitations barred their prosecution.

WAREHOUSE IS BURNED DOWN

Automobile Driver Bumps Into Plate Glass Window, With Loss of $300

FULLERTON, April 20.—A large warehouse south of the railroad was burned down yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The roof was falling in before an alarm of fire was turned in.

The building was owned by Stern & Goodman and was filled with baled hay. There was some insurance on the property. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is several thousand dollars.

Brandie's restaurant building presents the appearance of having passed through an earthquake or some similar shock. The large plate glass window, covering the entire front of the building, was shattered by an automobile running into it head on, and the damage resulting is estimated by the owner at $300. The driver of the freight truck, owned by the Standard Transfer Company, No. 114 West Thirtieth street, Los Angeles, was attempting to make a turn on the street in front of the restaurant.

Instead of moving the reverse lever, as was evidently his intention, he started forward on the slow gear, and becoming confused, lost control, climbed the sidewalk and went through the window.

BEET FACTORY LOOKING FOR A RECORD RUN

Old Employees of Plant Are to Be Given Preference by New Superintendent

LOS ALAMITOS, April 20.—It looks as if the beet factory here would have the biggest campaign in its history. In the fields the beets are covering the ground in many places and the outlook would do credit to the month of June. A little more rain would possibly help some fields of barley, but the beets do not need it.

The new superintendent, E. C. Hamilton, is now receiving applications for positions for the factory run and in order that old employees of Los Alamitos Sugar Company and other men in the immediate neighborhood may be given the first opportunity for employment during the coming campaign, applications should be filed at once. Next in order will be applications from more remote points.

The Commercial Club directors have appointed W. F. Dodd chairman of the committee on entertainment and F. W. Walton chairman of the committee on music. By invitation a dance and reception to club members, their families and friends will be given at the clubrooms next Friday night.

The location of Tent City has been changed to the southeast corner of the factory grounds, where an addition to the townsite of Los Alamitos of forty lots has been laid off under sanitary conditions.

The Allerton Hotel dining room room will be opened Friday morning, April 17, under new management. Strictly home cooking.

ONE MAN RULES CITY OF 2,500 PEOPLE

Glencoe, Ill., Finds City Manager Sherer Enough for the Whole Job

CHICAGO, April 20.—Herbert H. Sherer, city manager of the village of Glencoe, Ill., along the shore of Lake Michigan, believes he has a more complete control of that town of 2500 inhabitants than any of the recently created city managers in the United States have over their respective cities. Sherer absolutely "runs the town" without other executive or legislative interference. The only way his acts can be vetoed is by firing him, and judging by the success of the experiment since he took the job February 1, he is in no immediate danger of losing it.

Sherer is 30 years of age. He was employed by a Chicago telephone company when Glencoe decided to try the city manager system. Practically every taxpayer in Glencoe earns his bread in Chicago and they decided to put on the job one man on whom they could fix all responsibility. Under the system by which Sherer is named city manager a board of trustees, consisting of seven members, was elected to oversee the job and look after special departments of the village government. As Sherer got better acquainted with the job each trustee gradually slipped his duty to the city manager's shoulders. Finding nothing to do, the board of trustees then met and officially delegated complete control of the fire, police, street and all other departments to the city manager.

"It does not require a vivid imagination to picture the waste under the old system of city management with everything under a different head," said Sherer today. "In the first place the overhead cost is too great. Here we have certain equipment that can be used in all departments, certain employees that can work as advantageously on problems at the water works as on the streets and office men who might be wasting their time where there was lack of work under the old system, finding plenty to do. The biggest saving, however, results from the elimination of politics. The men I hired are simply hired because they are efficient and without a thought as to their ponies."

"SAVE CHICAGO'S BABIES" IS SLOGAN

"Baby Week" Opened by Infant Welfare Society that Has Cared for 36,000 Babies

CHICAGO, April 20.—"Save Chicago's Babies!" Countless husbands had this slogan hurled at them from moving picture screens today, read it on billboards, delivery wagons and in the newspapers, and tonight will see the same message flashed from an enormous electric sign at State and Madison streets.

This is "Baby Week" in Chicago. The Infant Welfare Society, which conducts thirteen "baby stations" in the congested sections where mothers are taught how to care for wee tots, is carrying on a vigorous campaign to raise more funds with which to equip more stations, and using every means to call the public's attention to its work. Lorado Taft, the famous sculptor, designed the big electric sign for the shopping district. It bears 1560 incandescent lights surrounding the figure of a mother holding a baby in her arms. Several large milk companies co-operated in the campaign by attaching tags to every bottle of milk delivered, telling the purposes of the society.

In the past three years, Infant Welfare Society workers have cared for 36,000 Chicago babies. They hope to raise funds with which to equip at least six more stations, in addition to five new stations to be established by use of interest on a fund created by the sale of souvenir spoons during the Chicago World's Fair.

SCHOOL BONDS ARE DEFEATED

Vote Has 9 For and 28
Against—Central Avenue
Graded

DELHI, April 20.—At an election held here last Saturday on a proposition to bond the district for $12,000, a vote of 38 was cast, of which 9 were for the bonds and 28 against. One ballot was spoiled.

Daniel Boyde was inspector and J. N. Bridgeford and J. Diamon Carter were judges. Dr. Boyde, who has been on school election boards for the last forty years, says that this is the largest number of votes that he can remember of ever being cast here.

There is no doubt but that the district requires more school room, there being about sixty white and about eighty Mexican children attending school. The Mexican children are at present being taught in Otto's hall, on main street. It is a good large building, but it is not as convenient as a school house. The consensus of opinion among the electors is that they would like the school trustees to call a public meeting and discuss the question of site, size and cost of buildings, etc.

Avenue Graded
The property owners on Central avenue have just had the avenue graded, and it is now in a fine condition for travel. W. R. J. Webster did the work. He is now grading the continuation of Central avenue through the Measor & Eunite tract to Dyer and the Santa Ana Co-Operative sugar factory.

The hotel here will be under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Staufenk on and after the first of May.

ONE ROUND FIGHT OCCURRED IN ALLEY

Policemen Murray and Ryan mixed up with a couple of quarrelsome affairs Saturday night, made three arrests and expect to make at least one more before the night's work is wound up.

A row that began on Fourth street ended in a stand-up-and-knock-down affair in the alley back of Moose Hall. Harry Leach is the man who got knocked down, and the policemen are after Claire Buchanan on the theory that he is the man who put Leach out. Others were mixed up in it.

The affair was about over with when the two nightwatchmen arrived. There was a scattering, but Leach was unable to get away. He put up $25 bail for his appearance today.

R. W. Collar and L. P. Halderman got into a wordy discussion, so the officers put them under arrest, received $15 each from them for bail.

THE COMPOUND INTEREST ON A FORGED NOTE

A prominent lawyer of a western city has volunteered to the prosecuting attorney the information that he is a forger and has given himself up to the sheriff.

He is more than $20,000 to the bad and without a cent with which to make good.

He says high living did it—that and recklessness in speculation through which he hoped to meet his inordinate expenses.

It is a pathetic tale he tells of how he committed his first crime to secure money for living expenses; how he could not meet the forged note when it became due; how he felt forced to forge again to shield himself, and then to plunge into speculation in the hope of making a big enough bunch of money to help him out.

It is the old case over again of the man trying to lift himself by his bootstraps.

It is an oft-told tale; but, somehow, not all men seem to become as familiar with it as they ought.

Some who will not learn from the experience of others must go through the furnace of experience themselves to learn that a forged note must some day fall due, with interest which the devil delights to extort.

This man has been as successful as any could hope to be along those lines. He has secured and spent in fast living more than $20,000 of other people's money.

Well, a swift run is soon over. A slide down hill is quickly made. The door to the prison is always wide open.

Now, in his failure and woe, he is counting up what interest he has paid, and must continue to pay, on that first forged note.

Other men with less ability, less money, less social advantage than he, have gone along honestly, eating the earned and wholesome fruits of prosperity.

He has chosen to quaff the stolen poisons—and they have done their part as they always do.

RECKLESS AUTOMOBILE DRIVING

Some one remarks that if pedestrians showed as bad manners as motorists the public highway would be a scene of continuous fistfights.

It does little good to vent your wrath on the man in the other car. You may be a Sandoval and he may be a pygmy. But you can't get at him, and he knows it. Life is too short to hunt up his number and trail him to the courts.

There are a great many automobileists who on getting home do not exchange views on the beauty of the scenery. The only question that attracts their interest is the time taken, and how many miles it figures out per hour. They are as proud of a satisfactory performance as if one's boy had taken a prize at college. A poor showing is apologized for as if it revealed some startling moral defect.

The majority of motorists are not of this type. The roads are full of cautious and conservative people, who display the same good manners in a machine that they do in their own homes. But there are far too many of the other kind.

There are a great many men to whom a motor trip means little unless it is punctuated and elevated by refreshment at the various inns along the route. In the emulation of good fellowship, this tends to procure mental elation. A driver becomes confident of his ability to take chances that in sober moments would be passed up. Hence many wrecks.

The line separating cautious from reckless driving is a very vague and indefinite one. It varies with the hour, the place and the man, and is given identical interpretation by no two courts.

A law so intangible is almost impossible to enforce. The mere imposition of fines amounts to little. The true sport considers the fun of joy riding cheap at the price. The one thing he is afraid of is the loss of his license. This is the one effective weapon to use against the reckless driver.

TREE PLANTING

Years ago it used to be quite customary for young men to celebrate public holidays and other festivals by planting trees about the public streets and parks or "commons." The present generation enjoys the shade. The women brewed lemonade and root beer or more emphatic concoctions for these occasions, which were made socially pleasant.

Nowadays it is considered the business of park commissioners and highway superintendents to provide such shade trees as are needed. But the appropriation for tree planting is usually meager. City councils and township governments like to spend money where a better showing can be made for their own term of office. The tree lover must wait for a number of years before seeing even a partial fruitage of his efforts. That is too distant to help elect officials when their term next expires.

There is too much tendency in community life to give up voluntary effort, and load public improvements on city officials, who are harassed on every side by demand for costly improvements. Recognizing this condition, many states have appointed an Arbor Day. Governors issue ponderous proclamations. They call on the citizens to suspend their daily tasks and sally forth with spade and watering pot. One suspects that but few pay much attention.

In some places the schools are organizing the children in tree planting movements. A boy who is old enough to play on a ball team is old enough to plant at least one tree every year. Instead of taking the youngsters out on more or less aimless "nature walks," why not localize and concentrate their interest in the practical task of setting out a tree? A few lessons should make any boy of ten competent to plant a tree and watch over it through the first critical months.

I have an order from the East to buy up 1000 second-hand watch movements in fair condition. What have you? Mell Smith, Watchmaker, 304 Main street.

WHITE RIBBONERS MEET

ounty W. C. T. U. Convention to Be Held at U. P. Church April 21-21

The twenty-fifth County W. C. T. U. convention will open tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the United Presbyterian Church, corner of Sixth and Bush streets, and will continue through Wednesday afternoon.

There will be good addresses, good music and something of interest at all the sessions. The public is cordially invited to attend any and all of these meetings. The Tuesday evening meeting will be of interest to the men as men's part in the "dry" campaign will be discussed by a man. An address to Sunday school workers will be given by Stella B. Irvine, temperance state superintendent of the Sunday School association, to the Sunday school workers of Orange county on Tuesday at 3 o'clock in the United Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Irvine is one of the best speakers of the day on temperance work and all Sunday school workers are urged to hear this address.

Mrs. Lucy Blanchard, president of the Southern California W. C. T. U., will make addresses Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday evening. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Blanchard's address will be on "Woman's Part in the 'Dry' Campaign." All who have heard Mrs. Blanchard will remember that she is a forceful and convincing speaker.

The Santa Ana W. C. T. U., Mrs. Lea Warren, president, will be the hostess union, and on behalf of the temperance people of the county and city urges a generous attendance at all of the sessions of the convention. Noon luncheon on each day of the convention will be served in the basement dining room of the church for 25 cents in order to accommodate the visiting delegates.

It is believed this silver anniversary convention of the County W. C. T. U. will be one of unusual value and a rousing attendance of the public in general will do much to promote enthusiasm in the work of the convention, also in the "dry" campaign now being waged in California.

—O—
At Lincoln School

The Parent-Teacher Association met in the kindergarten room of the Lincoln school Thursday afternoon, April 16, at 3 o'clock. The meeting was well attended, there being 107 present.

The boys and girls of the third grade, Miss Phyllis' room, sang three very pleasing numbers.

The following were re-elected to hold office for next year: President, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank; first vice-president, Mrs. H. C. Dawes; second vice-president, Mrs. H. M. Robertson; secretary, Miss Delta M. Wagner; treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Smith.

The mothers voted unanimously to support a cantata to be given by the pupils of Lincoln School. The proceeds will be used to build an outdoor lunch room, play room and recreation room.

Mrs. Hervey had charge of the question box. The following questions were discussed with much interest: "What Will We Do With Our Children in Vacation?" "What I Learned from Attendance at the Parent-Teacher Association?" "Little Things that Lead to a Low Moral Standard."

The hostesses for the afternoon were the mothers of the third grade. The May meeting will be in charge of the mothers of the kindergarten and first grade pupils.

For Mrs. Quick

It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Doren last year purchased the handsome J. G. Quick home at 1604 East Fourth street, not taking possession for several months after the purchase. But for a number of months past they have been residing in the beautiful suburban home, and on Saturday afternoon Mrs. Van Doren was hostess at a pleasant function in honor of Mrs. Quick, the old neighbors of that lady being invited to meet her. The house was aglow with radiant California poppies, quantities of the golden hued flower being used in an informal decorative scheme, mingled with asparagus ferns.

The ladies chatted over their needlework, and were incidentally entertained with charming piano music by Mrs. Van Doren and her little daughter Kathryn. Dainty refreshments were served on individual trays, Miss Grigsby assisting Mrs. Van Doren.

Besides the hostess and her little daughter and the honoree, Mrs. Quick, there were present Mesdames S. H. Finley, J. N. Osborn, W. H. Collins, Ethel Wilson, J. A. Raugh, Maude Miller, M. A. Menges, Frank Grigsby, H. A. Hanning; Miss Marie Drake, niece of the hostess, and Miss Grace Grigsby.

At the Topie Home

One of the most successful of the many good meetings of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Congregational Church was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Prince L. Topie, 320 South Main street. The principal feature of the meeting was an address by Dr. Louise Unger, a recently returned medical missionary from Turkey. The address, telling of Dr. Unger's experiences in Turkey, proved greatly interesting. An address on the recent missionary convention held at Ontario was given by Mrs. C. F. Cross, who attended the convention.

During the business session Mrs. N. A. Beals was instructed to frame the list of life members of the Cradle Roll. Committees were named for the Santa Ana Missionary Sisterhood meeting to be held in the First Congregational Church on Wednesday, April 29; Mesmes, Treas. Staff, E. M. Nealey, W. B. Tedford, C. F. Cross, P. L. Topie, W. H. Cross being chosen on the reception committee, and Mrs. Strong and Norton being named as ushers.

Officers of the society for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. C. F. Cross, president; Mrs. Nealey, Mrs. Tedford, Mrs. Staff and Mrs. Strong, vice-presidents; Mrs. Jack Cross, secretary; Mrs. W. S. Peck, treasurer; Mrs. Emory Ratcliffe, Mrs. F. L. Norton, cradle roll superintendent.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Amy Bent Honoree of Event Given by Miss Tillotson on Saturday Night

Miss Imogene Tillotson gave a kitchen shower on Saturday night for Miss Amy Bent, who is to be married on May 9 to Howard Billingsley. The affair was given at the Tillotson home, 429 West Third street, Cecil Bruners being used in decorations.

Games and Music made the evening an enjoyable one and the novel manner in which the "shower" was introduced added to the merriment of the occasion. A dressmaker's "dummy" was gowned in one of the bride-to-be's dresses and the various gifts were distributed over the form. The generously decorated "dummy" was then wheeled into the room, where Miss Bent was the central figure, and that charming young woman was kept busy in securing the many useful articles so well displayed.

Selectable refreshments were served by the hostess after the interesting "shower," individual trays being used.

The guests of the evening were as follows: Amy Bent, Cora Bent, Bertha Bent, Hattie Powers, Jessie Wilkie, Freda Moosser, Hazel Rowley, Minnie Wild, Marble Blodgett, Juanita Willits, Margaret Galup, Hester Billingsley, Claire Plumbe, the Misses Fitz; Mrs. E. It was a chicken dinner, and the chickens were sent for the occasion all the way from Santa Paula, Ventura county, by Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hildreth, parents of Miss Hildreth. Dr. Ball and the nurses of the Santa Ana Hospital were the guests at the bountiful dinner and the pleasant affair was greatly enjoyed. Miss Hildreth has many good wishes and congratulations on the birthday anniversary, and her guests at the noon feast congratulated each other on having been present.

O— Use Hyomei—You Breathe It

Unless properly treated this disease often leads to a serious if not fatal ailment. It is needless to allow catarrh to ruin your health—use Hyomei—it is certainly effective relief for catarrh treatments. It's the direct-to-the-spot treatment. You breathe it—no stomach dosing. No household should be without Hyomei. It not only gives quick and lasting benefit in cases of catarrh but is one of the surest and most pleasant treatments for head colds, sniffles, or croup of children.

Hyomei is a combination of antiseptic oils—you breathe it—using a small inhaler. The air laden with health-restoring Hyomei, soothes, heals and vitalizes the sore, raw and inflamed membrane of the breathing organs almost immediately. There is no other remedy that benefits so surely or so quickly. Money refunded by Rowley Drug Co. if you are not satisfied.

Do not be without Hyomei another day. Druggists everywhere sell it. Get the complete outfit—$1.00 size—this contains the inhaler and bottle of liquid.—Advertisement.

PRUNE CROP LIGHT HELP TO APRICOTS

Berneike States that Orange County Has Normal Crop of 'Cots

A telegram from the California Cured Fruit Exchange states that there is not over a quarter of a crop of prunes in the state, and that packers are offering growers a 6 cent basis. Other varieties of fruits are stronger and advancing.

It is very early to rely upon any very definite statement regarding the prune crop, but the advance in price from a 4¢ or a 4½ cents basis to a 6 cent basis leaves no doubt of a radical shortage in the crop. This has no important bearing on the price of other fruits, including dried apricots.

And for that reason, and in accord with the policy of the Exchange to keep all fruit growers informed, I publish this statement for the benefit of the growers. Our members, in anticipation of our joining the Exchange, will hereafter receive the bulletins of the Exchange as soon as I can forward a mailing list. And if any of the county papers are sufficiently interested to publish these bulletins, or extracts from them, for the benefit of our apricot growers in general, they can no doubt be put on the regular mailing list, since the Exchange desires to give the greatest publicity to this invaluable information in regard to crops and markets.

Address J. C. W. Jeffery, secretary, California Cured Fruit Exchange, Sacramento, Cal.

The reorganization plan is progressing. Nearly every member has signed up by this time. Everything looks favorable at present for a successful season ahead of us.

Orange county bids fair to have something like a normal crop. In some orchards the trees are over-loaded and need thinning badly. In other orchards the crop is tight. In the state the condition is perhaps not quite as good as at first expected.

My first statement about six weeks ago that there will not be a bumper crop in Orange county or in the state stands confirmed, as does also the statement that the opening price will not fall below 8 cents. Prices ranging from 8 to 10 cents per pound are now reported. Our growers will not rush to accept the first offer which comes. They will be willing to accept what may prove to be a fair price considering crop and market conditions.

AMUSEMENTS

"When God Wills"

To paint a word picture as delicate, stirring and pathetic as the play, "When God Wills," which is being presented at the Lyric Theater today, would require a pen more skillful than the writer's. Did you ever read a story or see a play during which you completely lost yourself, when you were unconscious of all that surrounded you, living, as it were, with the character moving before you, experiencing their joys and sufferings? Well, that is what this picture makes you do. You forget yourself in watching it, in the delicious, but firm grip it takes upon your interest.

One of those Eclair sparkling comedies entitled, "The Electric Girl," and a very beautiful and entertaining Western drama, featuring Wallace Reid and Dorothy Davenport, is also being presented, and go to make up one of those popular programs for which this theater is noted.

Drama of Creation

In moving pictures are being shown the thrilling scenes of the persecution of Christians in Nero's time. The present day conditions in India, Japan and China arouse sympathy and mutedly indicate their need of Christ's kingdom.

The persecutions of the various denominations during the history of the church show in no uncertain manner that followers of the Prince of Peace have neglected to practise the teachings of their accepted leader.

SANTA ANA BOYS WON POINTS IN SATURDAY MEET

Two Santa Ana boys, Ray Adkinson and Paul Anderson, won places for the local high school in the biggest track meet of the season last Saturday afternoon. The meet is held annually by the American Athletic Union. Competition is open to any man in the south and the meet decides the championship of Southern California.

The University of Southern California walked off with the meet, taking 57 points. The Los Angeles Athletic Club was second with 18½ points, and then came Occidental College with 17½, and Pomona with 11, after which were strung out half a dozen high schools. Most of the athletes from Los Angeles who are not attending college represented L.A.A.C.

Adkinson entered the hundred yard dash for high schools but a poor start left him a couple of yards behind at the beginning of the race. However, he overhauled Newby of Pasadena—one of the fastest sprinters in the South—but could not make up the places.

Adkinson also entered the open quarter mile run for college and club men. In that event Captain Gillette of Pomona took first place, with Cook of Occidental second. The Santa Ana boy threatened Gillette's lead at about the 300-yard mark, but the Pomona captain let out another notch of speed and broke the tape in 51 seconds flat, five yards in the lead. This makes Adkinson's time substantially better than 52 seconds, which would have won the Stanford Intercollegiate hands down, had he been eligible for that meet.

Six Hundred Millions Capital

The new Federal Reserve Banking System will open for business with an authorized capital of $100,000,000 for all reserve banks. This fact, says a Washington dispatch, became apparent this week when figures were made public from all national banks responding to the last call of the Comptroller of the Currency, made March 1. The total capital and surplus of the 7494 national banks reporting was given at about $1,788,000,000, and 6 per cent of this total would be about $107,000,000. There were only 7465 national banks who signified in the legal time their intention to enter the system, but the entrance into the system of State banks and trust companies will tend to offset this, and may bring the capital of all reserve banks near $110,000,000.

The actual working capital of all the banks may reach only half this amount for the law provides mandatory subscriptions of three-sixths of the total 6 per cent. The Reserve Board, which will direct the system, however, is authorized to demand the payment of the other three-sixths.

The statement shows national banks in excellent condition to meet the demands of the new law. Loans and discounts on March 4, 1914, amounted to $6,357,535,898, a gain over January 13, 1914, the time of the last call, of $182,130,936. The loan and discount increase, taken together with the fact that individual deposits increased in the same period by more than $39,000,000, was said to be the best indication that the national banks are in shape to meet the demands of the new system.

The statement shows resources and liabilities of the national banks are $11,564,497,260, their capital stock $1,056,482,120 and their individual deposits $6,113,328,457. Their reserves were put at $1,547,592,375, an average of 29.62 per cent, and $47,529,429 above the amount required by law. The cash in banks decreased since January, 1914, about $14,000,000, but increased over April, 1913, about $8,000,000.

"During March ten new banks were authorized to begin business and since the currency act was signed there have been 184 applications for conversion into national banks or for entrance into the new system as State institutions."

He Must Dig

We wanted a job, and, like everyone else,
We wanted a good one, you know;
Where his clothes would not soil and his hands would keep clean.
And the salary mustn't be low.
He asked for a pen, but they gave him a spade,
And he half turned away with a shrug,
But he altered his mind, and, seizing the spade—
He—dug!

He worked with a will that is bound to succeed.
And the months and the years went along,
The way it was rough and the labor was hard,
But his heart he kept filled with a song.
Some jeered him and sneered at the task, but he plugged
Just as hard as he ever could plug;
Their words never seemed to disturb him a bit—
As he dug.

The day came at last when they called for the spade,
And gave him a pen in its place.
The joy of achievement was sweet to his taste,
And victory shone in his face.
We can't always get what we hope for at first—
Success cuts many queer jigs,
But one thing is sure—a man will succeed—
If he digs.

The company has been in operation for ten years and the original cost of the property was $10,000.

Natural Gas Industry

More than eight million people in the United States depend upon natural gas for heating, cooking and industrial purposes as also in many instances for lighting. These are figures given in a report issued by the Government and are for the year 1912. Natural gas companies that year had 1,700,000 consumers. The report continues:

"The maximum production of natural gas was reached in 1912 in New York, Ohio and West Virginia, where it has been produced for twenty-eight years, and also in California, where production has been under way for twenty-four years; in Kentucky and Tennessee, where production was twenty-four years old, and in Oklahoma, where the first gas was produced eleven years ago. The year also was the maximum in production for the entire country, the gas produced in 1912 being valued at $44,562,957, at an average price to the consumer of 15.04 cents a thousand cubic feet. The value of the gas produced from 1882, when the first wells were drilled, up to the end of 1912, is given as $875,639,601. For domestic consumption in 1912 there was distributed 193,454,802 thousand cubic feet, which was sold at an average price of 26.34 cents a thousand cubic feet, while for industrial use there was produced 368,748,650 thousand cubic feet, sold at an average price of 9.11 cents a thousand cubic feet, or a total production of 562,203,452 thousand cubic feet, sold at an average price of 15.04 cents a thousand cubic feet.

"On December 31, 1911, there were 28,978 producing wells in the United States. In 1912 there were 5138 wells drilled, of which 3755 were producers and 1383 dry. There were 1954 wells abandoned in 1912 and on December 31, 1912, there were 30,779 wells producing gas. Large areas are held by the natural gas companies. At the close of 1912 the companies owned 459,089 acres, leased 8,682,855 acres and held 1,265,940 acres by reason of operation, or a grand total of lands held by the companies of 10,407,884 acres. The largest acreage is held in West Virginia, where 3,019,316 acres are controlled, while in Pennsylvania there are 2,187,388 acres, in Ohio 1,756,167 and in Oklahoma 1,161,048 acres. As to the value of the gas produced from these holdings it was $18,539,672 in 1912 in Pennsylvania, $11,894,299 in Ohio, $33,349,021 in West Virginia, $14,492,696 in Texas, Alabama and Louisiana and $7,466,528 in Oklahoma.

"Since natural gas was first discovered in Pennsylvania the value of gas produced and sold in that State has been $355,672,362, in Ohio $114,011,567, in New York $15,986,149, in West Virginia $192,062,893, in Indiana $98,167,286, in Texas, Alabama and Louisiana $9,722,970, and in Oklahoma $21,081,670. These figures are for gas actually produced and sold and of course do not include the immense amount of gas, which in the thirty-one years since natural gas has been commercially used in this country, has been permitted to escape from the wells and be wasted. It is said that since natural gas became a commercial possibility in this country as large an amount has been wasted as actually has been used for domestic and industrial purposes, the greatest waste having taken place in the oil fields, although even in the natural gas fields it has not been until within the last few years that any attempts have been made to conserve the supply."

Immigration in California

The New York Commercial, in an article on the coming of a heavy immigration to the Pacific Coast when the Panama Canal is opened says:

"Immigration on the Pacific Coast, such as is expected to follow the completion of the Panama Canal, forms one of the many subjects which the recently incorporated Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America is studying at the present time. California is in no need of additions to its city population, but it does require addition to its available supply of farm labor. The Chinese and Japanese would supply this want if they were admitted as laborers into this country, but the exclusion of Orientals cuts off this supply and the white population of the cities of that State cannot be induced to work in the country.

Most of the immigrants from Italy and other parts of Southern Europe come from rural districts and have received good training in market gardening and agricultural work such as is followed most profitably in California. When these people land in New York they stay in the cities or go to the mines and mill towns. Farmers in the East and Middle West are unable to avail themselves of this source of labor because the employer cannot speak the language of the employee and farming operations are usually conducted on too small a scale to permit the employment of a foreman who can speak both English and Italian. In California the availability of this class of labor would be much greater, because the fruit growers especially are accustomed to employing Japanese who speak little or no English and they certainly would be able to adapt themselves to the substitution of Italians for Orientals. The principal crops of Southern California are similar to those of Southern Europe and this would help materially because the immigrants would not have to learn much with which they are not already familiar. In the East the best services of these immigrants are lost by taking them out of their proper environment, and the solution of the labor question in California and of the needs of the immigrants from Southern Europe may be satisfactorily arrived at when ships sailing from Southern Europe can land their passengers at Pacific Coast ports."

General Petroleum, Limited

With a capital of £3,500,000 divided into £1,200,000 cumulative 7 per cent preference shares and £1,800,000 ordinary shares, the General Petroleum Company, Ltd., has been registered in London. It is the intention of this corporation to take over from the Western Ocean Syndicate the General Petroleum Company of California recently acquired by the Western Ocean Syndicate. The San Francisco Chronicle has this to say about the Union Oil matter in connection with the General Petroleum deal.

The managers of the Western Ocean Syndicate appear to be working out their plans without any advice from this end of the proceedings, where little information is available. In a general way it is known that there are two more or less conflicting options. The first option is held by the General Petroleum Company of California, and it carries the right to purchase up to December 31, 1914, Lyman Stewart's holdings of United Petroleum and Union Provident stocks at $130 a share. A syndicate, headed by Hallgarten Company, holds a negative option expiring June 30, 1914, by virtue of which the Union Oil Company cannot, until the expiration of that option, sell its properties at a lower price than provided in the General Petroleum option. Nothing remains, therefore, except to exercise the General Petroleum option or wait until after June 30, or buy out the Hallgarten syndicate.

General Pipe Line Taken in

The acquisition of the General Pipe Line Company, whose lines run from the Midway field to Los Angeles harbor, by the Western Ocean Syndicate, Ltd., is assured. All the members of the General Pipe Line Syndicate have deposited their securities with the Columbia-Knickerbocker Trust Company, New York. This practically closes the deal.

COYOTES, CAT AND ONE COON

Thirty Hunters and Thirty Fox—
Hounds Had a Great Outing

Five coyotes, one bob-cat and one coon, along with a big time, are counted in as the captures of the best camp ever had by the Southern California Fox and Wolf Hunters' Association. Thirty members of the association were in the camp, which was established in the Trabuco five miles above the Crookshank place.

Thursday was an eventful day, with one coyote and one coon brought in by the horsemen. J. F. Conley's horse stepped in a hole, and Conley, while thrown heavily, escaped with a shaking up. The worst accident of the outing was when Avienne Bastien of Placentia fell forty feet from a tree, which he was climbing to reach an eagle's nest. He had three ribs broken.

Thirty fox-hounds were in the running, and the sport following them was fully up to expectations.

Thursday afternoon horse racing and hurdling were indulged in. Charles Wagner's mount took the highest jump, five feet, and Will Ward's grey mare won the 200-yard dash.

Among the visitors were James Morgan of Warsaw, Mo., J. S. Slaten of Bethany, Mo., S. B. Limes of Ft. Sill, Okla., C. C. Palmer, W. P. Cunningham and Capt. Fredericks of Los Angeles.

Wednesday night was ladies night. Among the visitors were Mrs. J. F. Conley and daughter, of Yorba Linda, Miss Vina Peterson of Santa Ana, Mrs. Will Ward and family of Bolsa, Mrs. Gus Ward and family of Bolsa, and Mrs. A. J. Waddington and family, of Newhope. A banjo, guitar and violin furnished music around the campfire. Will Jeffrey performed a "war" dance for the spectators.

Officers of the association were elected as follows: Gus Ward, president; Will Jeffrey, vice-president; J. F. Conley, secretary.

FORM LEAGUE OF TAXPAYERS

Felder and Felder of West Orange President and Secretary

Some time ago a number of taxpayers of Orange county formed an organization known as the Taxpayers' League of Orange County, which is formed to discuss matters along the line of assessments, collections and disbursements of money raised by taxation.

The league was organized with seventeen members. They elected Jacob Felder of West Chapman street, Orange, as president and Wm. Felder of the same place as secretary. Since organization there have been over twenty-seven applications for membership to be voted on at the next meeting. The league meets on the first Saturday of each month at 2:30 p.m. at the City Hall, Santa Ana, until a permanent meeting place can be arranged for. All taxpayers who are in

MISCELLANEOUS CITRUS FRUITS NOTES

By Reginal Brinsmead, Register Staff Writer

The Sicilian winter lemon crop of 1913-14 was a large one, exceeding that of the previous year by fully thirty per cent. The quality of the fruit, however, was not everything to be desired, sizes running small with considerable inferior fruit. Owing to this condition of the fruit, it is not expected that imports to the United States for the first six months of 1914 will exceed those of 1913, when they reached a total valuation of $3,767,075. Mild and dry weather during last December and January occurred, the hoped-for heavy rains failing to materialize to size up the fruit on the trees.

One important factor in the limitation of exports of the lower grades of lemons will be the high prices now ruling for citrus by-products, which will create a brisk demand for the lower grades of lemons adapted for manufacturing purposes.

The prospects for the "verdelli" crop of summer lemons are excellent, and it is expected to be fully as large as that of 1913. Owing largely to lack of winter rains and two consecutive heavy crops—those of the summer of 1913 and winter of 1913-14—sizes are expected to rule small.

Malaga Dried Orange Peel

Exports of dried orange peel from Malaga, Spain, for the current crop will approximate 360,000 pounds, of which some 400,000 pounds will consist of bitter orange peel; three kinds of peel being packed—thin sweet, thin bitter and thick bitter, which are now selling at $3.84 to $4.43, $7.69 to $8.28, and $14.20 per 100 pounds of the thin sweet, thin bitter, and thick bitter peels, respectively. Orange peel not preserved or candied enters the United States free of duty.

In connection with the Malaga orange peel industry, it is interesting to note that in the interior districts in years of short pasture the orange pulp is fed to hogs and cattle, the peel being shipped to Malaga for export. The pulp is said to be excellent feed, forming in spring especially a beneficial laxative. In Italy the lemon pulp, after the extraction of the juice in the manufacture of citrate of lime, is used either for fodder or fertilizer.

The Value of Pre-Cooling

The following report from Liverpool, although referring to shipments of American pears to that port, indirectly serves to emphasize the great value and importance of properly pre-cooling our California oranges, when once ripe, prior to sending them for ward from the packing houses:

"Pears were imported into Liverpool to a considerable extent during the past year from New York state. The advantages of cold storage to shippers was clearly shown by the fact that barrelled pears, taken from the orchards and at once cooled, then loaded into refrigerator cars, and finally transferred to steamer cold storage, are reported to have arrived in excellent condition, while many of the parcels that were not cooled when taken from the orchards arrived in wasty and damaged condition, and in some cases were a total loss. This, it is represented, should bring home to shippers the importance of allowing soft fruit to be cooled in cold storage before starting it on its long journey to this market."

In view of the efforts now being made to extend the European trade in California oranges, by means of direct shipment through the Panama canal, this report from one of the most important points is at least of great interest.

Spanish and Jaffa Oranges

Both Spanish and Jaffa (Palestine) orange crops were extremely heavy the past season. Jaffa has, however, "cleaned up" some time back. The Spanish crop was seriously injured by frost, and reports from Europe would denote a good market for the better grades of California oranges, owing to the unreliable condition of arrivals of Spanish fruit since the frost. This is but one instance of where the Panama canal would indeed have proven a great blessing by enabling shipments to go more readily forward from California to Europe, for these conditions of the orange market apply with equal force to all of the important European markets and distributing points.

International Irrigation Congress

Delegates to the International Irrigation Congress, scheduled to meet in Calgary, Canada, next summer, will find in the Bassano dam, one of the Canadian Pacific railroad's important projects, much to interest them. The dam is 720 feet long between abutments, has a maximum height of 49 feet, to the overflow crest, above which lift of water is retained by the gates. It is built to irrigate 910,000 acres of land, has a total mileage of canals and ditches of 5098. The dam cost $1,500,000 to build, three and a half years being spent in its construction. It is the largest private irrigation project in America.

sympathy with the movement are invited to attend the meetings. If those interested will write the secretary they will be furnished with application blanks and given such information as may be desired.

The object of the league is stated as follows:

"To correct existing evils and inequalities in taxation, promote economy in public expenditures, both state and local, and to formulate and announce the most progressive economic thought and administrative experience available for the correct guidance of public opinion, legislative and administrative action on all questions pertaining to state and local taxation."

"Any taxpayer in the county may become a member of this league by subscribing to the articles of the league and upon affirmative vote of a majority of the membership committee, except public office holders, either state, county or municipal, who shall not be eligible to membership in this league while holding office."
